Northwestern Over Notre Dame: Grange

Picks Iowa to Upset Mighty Minnesota

BY RED GRANGE
(The Original Man-in-Motion)

CHICAGO — Lynn Waldorf must mould a tighter pass defense than Northwestern has exhibited all season to beat Notre Dame in Evanston, Nov. 15.

Unless Northwestern can stop the slingshot thrusts of Angelo Bertolo Bertelli, Notre Dame's amazing sophomore passer, the Wildcats are apt to suffer the same fate as Navy did in Baltimore.

The game should be a dogfight all the way with one of football's elusive breaks determining the final outcome. I'm casting a faltering vote for the Purple.

Notre Dame took a physical beating at the hands of the Middies. Northwestern had no easy time with Indiana, but it did not have to put forth such an all-out effort.

The Irish were high for Navy. They had the drive and the spirit that good teams have after an unsuccessful game. Notre Dame was disappointed in its showing against Army. The Celts were primed for a killing. Northwestern has been defeated twice. Waldorf has pointed for Notre Dame.

Northwestern has a good passer of its own—sophomore Otto Graham.

The young Purple line has come along nicely. Northwestern has a powerful attack with Don Clawson, Bill DeCorrevont, Graham and plenty of reserve material.

Bernie Bierman's teams at Minnesota are noted for their ability to stay on top, but I'm going 'way out on the limb and pick Iowa to knock the Gophers out of the undefeated ranks.

Minnesota has relied on its stout line to make up for the loss of backs Bruce Smith and Herman Frickey. The Gophers had strenuous engagements with Northwestern and Nebraska following their titanic Michigan struggle. They must feel the brunt of their schedule.

Iowa is a young, developing team which has gained momentum following a poor start.

Dr. Eddie Anderson knows what to do with a good passer, and the Hawkeyes have found one in Tommy Farmer. They have a splendid fullback in Bill Green to give them a ground threat as well.

Missouri has a potent ground attack while Oklahoma will depend on the versatile talents of Indian Jack Jacobs. I like the Tigers, but they'll know they've been to the wars.

Boston college has been rolling since its defeats by Tulane and Clemson. Paced by a fine halfback, Mike Holovak, the Eagles should turn back Tennessee in Boston.

Michigan will outweigh, outman and overpower Columbia in New York.

Unbeaten and once-tied Mississippi State has a top-notch back in Blondy Black and should whip Duquesne in a Pittsburgh thriller.

Underrated Harvard, with its powerful forward wall, should turn back Brown.

Cornell is my choice over Dartmouth. The Big Red has a grand aerial game.

Pennsylvania has too much reserve power for Army.

N. Y. U., with an emphasized schedule and a de-emphasized team faces a rough afternoon with Tulane.

I like Colgate's young team over Syracuse.

Detroit figures to repel Villanova.

Princeton showed signs of power against Dartmouth and should take Yale.

Holy Cross is my choice over Manhattan.

Jimmy Nelson should lead Alabama to victory over Georgia Tech.

Duke has a wide margin over North Carolina on past performance and should win, though the Tar Heels can make their season a success by upsetting the dope.

326: Sioux 2,269; J. Dempsey 436; E. est, Louisiana State and Auburn is a tossup affair with a nod to L. S. U.

Georgetown, conqueror of Mississippi, is my choice over North Carolina State.

Bob Zuppke is noted for "one-upset-a-year." Illinois may feel Paul Brown's Buckeyes in Columbus, but I'll have to string with Ohio State. High-scoring Wisconsin and low-scoring Purdue tangle at Madison, and I think the Badgers are due to win one.

Kansas State, fresh from victories over Nebraska and South Carolina, is my pick over Kansas.

I think surprising Pittsburgh can keep winning against Nebraska.

I like Andy Tomasic and Temple against Michigan State.

Texas, outplayed and held even, will be furiously on the bounce and should whip Texas Christian.

Texas A. and M. should still boast an unblemished record after meeting Rice. Southern Methodist looks too strong for Arkansas.

Billy Sewell's aerial bullets may trouble Stanford but Clark Shaughnessy's boys have that Rose Bowl urge and should get by Washington State.

I have an idea California will get back on the right track against Oregon State.

Santa Clara is the choice over its traditional rival, Saint Mary's Nov. 16.

Deerfield End Scores 139 In Six-Man Loop

Berge Sets An All-Time Mark for Prep Circuit

Individual scorers will have a real target to shoot at in future Suburban Six-Man football conference seasons. Merle Berge, Deerfield end, set the scoring standard at 139 points this year during the initial season of the circuit and the mark also is a new all-time record for entire seasonal scoring for the prep six-man division in the suburban area.

Berge* scored 20 touchdowns and made 19 extra points on conversion to rack up his sensational total. The all-time mark was 133 points set by Lloyd Burkhalter, South Wayne, in five games during 1940. Berge made his total in seven games.

The all-time mark for independent six-man teams is 120 set by John Barsness, Black Earth, in 1940. This season, however, the independent schools joined the present circuit.

The scoring leaders:

Game Statistics Will Open Broadcast At 1:15

By E. BOWDEN CURTISS
(Radio Editor)

WITH the sting of that last minute 14 to 13 defeat still rankling in their hearts, the Purdue Boilermakers will be out for revenge when they battle the Badgers at Camp Randall Stadium tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. WIBA, with Art Bramhall at the mike, will begin its broadcast of pre-game color and facts at 1:15 p. m.

With the big Purdue fracas facing them tomorrow, Frank Granitz, halfback, and John Roberts, guard, both members of the Badger grid squad, will give some indication of what they're going to do to the Boilermakers, when they are interviewed by Art Bramhall on tonight's "Meet the Team" broadcast at 6:30 p. m. over WIBA.

Roundy Coughlin, the Sage of Mendota, presents another of his usual Friday night programs at 7:30 p. m. on WIBA.

Roundy has the games all doped out for tomorrow and he will make his predictions during tonight's broadcast.

You local prophets who anxiously await the results of Saturday's games can get the final reports of games all over the nation at 5:15 p. m. tomorrow over WIBA.

CITIES SERVICE CONCERT

"My Temptation" by Henry Sullivan will open the Cities Service concert tonight at 7 p. m. over WIBA.

Lucille Manners, soprano soloist, will be heard in "With All My Heart" from the "Great Waltz" by Johann Strauss, after which the orchestra under Dr. Frank Black will play "Liebesfreud" by Kreisler. Ross Graham's baritone solo will be "On the Road to Mandalay," by Speaks. The ensemble will conclude with Gypsy Scene and Czardas from Herbert's "Fortune Teller."

Grantland Rice, sports commentator, will again present his forecasts on tomorrow's football contests.

EDUCATION WEEK

The "Largo" from Dvorak's New World Symphony will be the musical presentation of Wisconsin high school students under direction of William Sur, on the concluding program of a series of local broadcasts in observance of American Education Week. Tonight's program will be heard at 8:30 p. m. over WIBA.

The group will also play selections from a Tschaikowsky suite.

FAMOUS JURY TRIALS

Tonight, Station WIBA on the "Famous Jury Trials," program brings listeners the "Trial of Frank Brewster," for criminal negligence. The charge grew out of a construction catastrophe which occurred when a large apartment house being built for Brewster collapsed at the sixth story level, killing 11 workmen and injuring 17.

Inspection showed that inferior materials had been used and that construction had violated the building code in numerous ways. Brewster claimed he knew nothing of the structural defects, that his contractors had taken advantage of his ignorance of construction details.

The complete trial, condensed for radio, will be heard over WIBA at 9 p. m.

+ + +

LOTTE LEHMANN

"At Home With Lotte Lehmann" will be the presentation of WIBA's "Columbia Masterworks" program tonight at 10:30 p. m.

Miss Lehmann will invite you into her home and play her favorite selections from her record library.

Miss Lehmann, who is famous as an interpreter of "Leider," will give explanations of her choices together with interesting facts about the artists and compositions.

+ + +

OTHERS TONIGHT

The delectable waltz presentations of Abe Lyman's "Waltz Time" will be heard on WIBA at 8 p. m.

Muffled screams, weird music, and crazy antics will arise from the dust laden props of "Studio X" when that program airs over WIBA at 9:30 p. m.

Nelson Olmsted with another of his dramatic interpretations of famous stories will be the presentation of WIBA at 10:15 p. m.

Road Builders Plan Meet in Milwaukee

The 29th annual convention of the Wisconsin Road Builders association will be held Dec. 9 and 10 at the Plankington hotel in Milwaukee, it was announced today.

Speakers will include Gov. Heil, state highway commissioners, Warren G. Bailey, of the office of production management, Thomas O'Malley, regional director, wage and hour division Burton F. Miller, executive assistant of the American Road Builders association, and Hugh M. Jones, state motor vehicle director.

School savings accounts rose to $34,417,238 as of June 30, 1941, according to the American Bankers association.

Don Rice Is Independents' Scoring Champ

Don Rice, 210 pound fullback for Muscoda's high school football team, won scoring honors for prep gridders whose teams campaigned independently this season throughout the Madison suburban area. Rice plunged over for nine touchdowns and added 10 extra points by line smashes for a total of 64 points.

Last season, Myron Brockman, Edgewood fullback, was the leader with 69 points, an all-time record for independent competition since records were first kept in 1937.

Blackhawks Win 2–1 from Brooklyn Pucksters

NEW YORK— (AP) —The Chicago Blackhawks spoiled the inaugural game of the newly renamed Brooklyn Americans Thursday night by defeating Red Dutton's Amerks, 2 to 1, before 11,470 fans at Madison Square Garden.

The Hawks won through two fast scoring plays in the second period, wiping out a one goal lead that Rookie Harry Watson gave the Americans by scoring his first professional tally early in the period.

Two Rivers Keglers Hit High Count of 720

TWO RIVERS, Wis.—(AP)—Hilary Boettger, who set an all-time bowling record here two years ago when he rolled a 786 series, shot a 720 score for three games in the Classic league last night. The count, scored on games of 217, 268 and 235, was the highest in the league this year.

Calvin Clark Is No. 1 Scorer in Juneau 6-Man

Calvin Clark, Necedah high school speedster, was an easy winner this season in the race for individual scoring honors among Juneau County Six-Man conference football players. He scored 105 points on 15 touchdowns and an equal number of conversions. He was 40 points ahead of his nearest rival, Art Sanderson, Elroy fullback.

Clark missed tying the all-time league mark by just four points. Benno Hamburg, Wonewoc ace, established the mark last year, 109 points, in seven games.
